

Nursery Home Learning- Week Beginning 1/6/2020

Tuesday

Hello children and your grown-ups, we hope you are all well and staying safe at home. Below are your home learning challenges for today, including a special mission for you to try. As always, Mrs Patton has put videos on Twitter to help with this week's home learning so check out @devnursery for support, she also retweets what you wonderful children have been up to, so take a look and you might spot some of your friends. Have another great day!

Phonics

This week we are learning our new sound 'm'. Today we will have a go at writing 'm'. It's another of our bouncy letters so we would like you to practice that bouncy shape before you try writing your 'm'. Use the guide below to help you and remember that Mrs Patton has videos on Twitter to help with letter formation too. Practice writing your 'm's everywhere and remember to make the sound of the letter when you have written it, that will help you to remember.

This week we are looking at the story of Augustus and His Smile, which you can find on YouTube, read by the author here <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=a-FBhbYtedU>. Today we would like you to try and draw a story map to help you to learn the story. Remember to start off with a large s shape and add little pictures and reminders along the way to show each thing Augustus saw in the story.

When you have made your map you can use it to practice the story out loud, keep practicing until you don't need the words or pictures anymore and you will have learnt another story- well done you!

Here is Mrs Patton's story map to start you off:

Maths

This week we are working on number 6. Today we would like you to have a go at writing number 6. Now number 6 is a curly number so we start with our stir the pot jingle, but instead of stirring the pot to the top, we stir to the middle to give 6 a belly that sits on the line. If you need help with forming the numeral, head over to Twitter to see Mrs Patton write it @devnurseries, then have a go at writing some yourself.

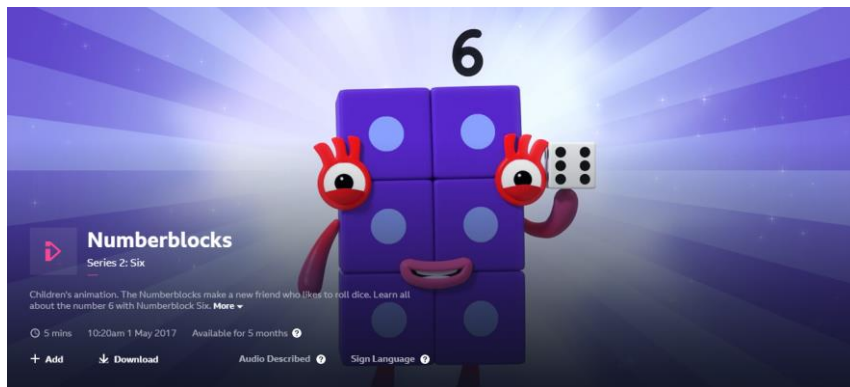

Remember that there are lots of lovely number games you can play here:

<https://www.topmarks.co.uk/maths-games/3-5-years/counting> which are great fun and will help with all our numbers now we are working up to 10.

You can also look at the Numberblocks 6 episode here:

Special Mission

Augustus and His Smile is a book all about emotions, so we would like you to have a think about your emotions this week too. Yesterday we were labelling emotions, today we would like you to talk about when you feel different ways. You could start off with the emotion words from yesterday and then add your own sentence to it.

For example: I feel happy/sad/scared when.....

Here are all the emotion words we used yesterday:

happy	sad	angry	tired	surprised	scared
nervous	hungry	excited	calm

And grown-ups, this is a great time to explore feelings with your child but we know this can be a bit scary or even upsetting to talk about, if you need more advice take a look at this website <https://www.bbc.co.uk/cbeebies/joinin/help-children-cope-with-emotions> which includes some great activities for coping with and exploring different emotions with your child.
